

Running a Business from your Home.

Your tenancy states that you must not use your home for ‘non-residential purposes’, which includes the running of any business activity from your property.

Also, you must not exhibit a sign or advertisement about any business.